$578,000 Quake Damage

Daly City—hardest hit by the Bay Area's second worst earthquake Friday—lost more than half a million dollars in property and goods, according to a conservative estimate made today by the city manager.

While tremors continued to jolt the earth intermittently, Daly City began totaling losses that have already been set at $578,000.

Damage was most severe in the Westlake area, especially the new Palisades section west of Skyline boulevard, where the average loss per home was assessed at $250.

And the entire community had some tremulous moments after the big shaker when the 1,600,000 gallon Westlake Reservoir No. 2 sprung a leak, forcing evacuation of some 1000 persons on Westmoor, Skyline, Palisades and Morningside streets in the Palisades section.

Virtually every law enforcement agency in the north county was called out to handle the evacuation, while every available city employee assisted in the "disaster status" operation.

Under direction of Daly City police sergeant David Hansen, the residents were removed from the danger area, transported by every type of vehicle — taxi cabs, jitneys, schools buses, delivery trucks and private autos, to Jefferson High school yard.

Reservoir Cracks

A RECORD reporter was at the reservoir when the gaping six-foot high split appeared on the side of the reservoir, gushing water from above and seeping through the ground under the tank's level.

Engineer Cyril Weiler gave the dramatic order on the scene: "We'd better move them all out."

Within seconds, Daly City and Broadmoor police officers, reservists, city and county firemen, sheriffs officers and Red Cross had started moving the residents out of the stricken area. Families, some hysterical, others calm and even joking, took temporary residence on their front lawns while awaiting transportation from the area.

Sirens wailed and fire engines raced to homes where occupants had reported possible gas leaks.

At 72 Seacliff a gas main mushroomed up to crack sidewalks on both sides of the street. Emergency PG&E crews were on the spot to check damage and prevent fire.

Not As Serious

What looked like untold damage at the moment of crisis, appeared not quite so serious after householders picked up the shattered stemware, glasses, pots and pans and shoved refrigerators, televisions and appliances back into place.

Stoves and water heaters "walked" several feet at many homes, in some cases breaking connections.

Daly City firemen swiftly and efficiently made a house-to-house canvass to check for gas leakage and broken wiring.

Structural damage to Palisades homes was heavy, but not as severe as immediately believed.

City Manager Howard Stites' report originally showed 450 Palisades homes averaging $250 in damage for a $112,500 total. This was changed to 250 homes and $62,500.

Teachers Pay Hike Plea Bogs Down At Board Meet

JUHS VIEWS BUDGET, POSSIBLE TAX SLASH

Trustees got their first look at the proposed 1957-58 Jefferson Union High School district budget Monday night— a $2 million plus total.

Superintendent Edward D. Morgan's preliminary budget estimate is $2,262,599, a hike of more than $400,000 over the present budget. The 1956-57 figure is $1,828,325.

Expected to be a whopper because of the opening of Westmoor this fall, the budget, if okayed, won't cause a boost in local taxes, however, In fact, Morgan pointed out, taxes may be sliced as much as six cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The overall tax rate would be $1.86 per $100 instead of the current $1.92. The operating tax would remain the same, but bond tax reduction will allow the decrease to taxpayers.

The tax slice will be possible only if voters approve the $2,900,000 bond and $8 million state aid issues at the polls May 17.

"We're working with many unknowns on this budget estimate," Morgan said, "mainly because of the Westmoor situation."

The superintendent urged trustees to give it thorough study. "This figure is by no means final since we've got lots of decisions to make before fixing the final sum."

In other action Monday, trustees:

1. Approved third change order on Westmoor contract amounting to expenditure of $2,316.90.

2. Accepted $32,900 low bid of O. C. Jones & Sons for site development work at Westmoor to begin next week. Other bidders were Watkins & Siebald, $39,970, and Martinelli Construction Company, $55,867.

3. Set Saturday, April 6, for board visit to two new high school plants in Marin county.

4. Adopted calendar for 1957-58 year.

5. Heard report from John Ivan that enrollment at Adult school in February was 450 students, all-time record here.

Teachers in the Jefferson Elementary School district are still in the dark today about getting approval of their request for some $70,000 in pay raises for the coming school year.

Trustees, for the third straight time, failed to come up with an answer Wednesday night.

Mrs. Otha Kinsey, representing the Classroom Teachers association, presented the board with two proposals. She projected the proposed salary costs and the district's ability to finance the hikes through the 1962-63 school year, basing the figures on Stanford's estimate of a 5 per cent increase per year in assessed valuation.

Over Million

Under the 5 per cent of base increase, teacher salaries this fall would amount to $891,200, compared to the present figure of $869,000. Add to this the 23 new teachers to be hired next fall, and the teachers salaries would hit $1,021,200.

The teachers also submitted an "alternate" 10 per cent increase projection, depending on passage of the apportionment bill at this session of the state legislature. This would mean $1,096,400 in teacher salaries this fall.

David Shapiro, assistant superintendent, answered that the district could afford the 5 per cent pay boosts this year, but termed additional hikes thereafter "a physical impossibility under the district's current $1.50 tax rate."

He indicated the board was in no position now to make the decision "until all factors are considered."

"We've got three alternatives," Shapiro said. "We can go for a tax raise, wait for the legislature to act, or deny the pay hike request."

Tax Election?

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel indicated that a tax election next year appears inevitable.

Trustee Michael Callan vociferously protested the teachers' pay hike demands. "It actually means a 7¾ per cent increase this fall," he challenged Mrs. Kinsey.

"This raise would amount to $394 per teacher," he continued. "Standard of living hasn't increased that much. You'll find they aren't even giving that much in industry."

Mrs. Kinsey countered that

EDITORIAL

BOUQUETS ALL THE WAY AROUND

Citizens, city employees, governmental agencies and private businesses deserve an editorial pat on the back for their performance in the face of Friday's earthquake.

While Daly City's civil disaster program has suffered neglect by the majority of the townspeople, it was surprisingly efficient in the wake of the major temblor.

Representatives of this newspaper were on hand at the scene of the evacuation, and were impressed with the calm dispatch with which the program was implemented.

And most residents responded to the directions of civil teams without protest.

Throughout the city, firemen quelled fears of householders by checking utility connections for damage.

Private carriers and markets lent their vehicles for evacuation and other uses.

Individual citizens who had fared better than some of their neighbors offered to help in any way they could.

All law enforcement branches performed admirably in assisting with traffic control, communications and to generally avert panic.

The very immutability of the quake seemed to knit the community into a cohesive unit.

Everyday problems and grievances were non-existent as all activity was directed into the all-important effort of protecting lives and property and averting hysteria.

An effective disaster plan is one which can cope with any emergency.

After viewing Daly City in action Friday, we are confident that the community has the "stuff" to take care of itself.

More Quake News P. 2, 3

ADVERSITY with a smile is expressed by Rudy Wolmuth, manager of Sprouse Reitz company, who wasted no time cleaning up the damage left by Friday's rocker. Stores throughout the area, particularly in Westlake, lost plenty of glass and in general, were "messes" inside.

CENTER OF activity after Friday's earthquake was Westlake Reservoir No. 2, which sprung a leak, threatening to burst and pour out its 1,600,000 gallons of water over Westlake Palisades area. Monte Dayton of THE RECORD staff views water seeping through side of structure. Tank was drained to one-third capacity by city workers, after which some 1000 evacuated residents were allowed to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. GARVEY POLLARD, 47 East Cavour, heard about the Friday earth rumblings shortly after leaving Cuba, where they had just completed a vacation.

They immediately contacted Mrs. Pollard's sister and daughter, who had remained behind in DC.

"Leaving immediately," the Pollards notified relatives here.

No sooner did they embark on their cross-country journey than they were trapped in the midst of the blizzard now holding thousands of inlanders in its grip.

At last report, Daly City relatives were worried about the Pollards dilemma, rather than vice versa.

Mayor JOSEPH VERDUCCI, Councilman MICHEAL DE BERNARDI and city employees CYRIL WEILER and HANK WEISNER, along with two reporters from THE RECORD, had some anxious moments when that 3:15 second jolt hit Friday, as we were all inside the Westlake reservoir when it hit, supported only by a make-shift plank.

If you've never seen five people go through a three-foot wide entrance at one time, you should have been there.

Daly City's civil disaster council was scheduled to have met Thursday, on the eve of the big shake-up, but the session was cancelled as many of the members and guests could not attend.

A mystified boxer pooch was thoroughly unnerved by the whole goings-on and wound up in canine disarray at the Sheriff's station in Westlake.

Lions' Big 'Youth Art' Show Opens

No one can afford to miss this one, that's for sure!

This is the tipoff around town about the fourth annual "Youth Art Contest and Exhibit" which opened its five-day run Wednesday at War Memorial building.

Sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lions club, the free-to-the-public spectacle is expected to draw more than 15,000 viewers.

Lions chairman Elio Fontana spares no adjectives. "The response by local youngsters is great. We've got about 1000 entries, and from first glances I'd say the work of these kids is better than ever."

Youngsters throughout the area, kindergarten through high school, are competing for a multitude of prizes. Roughly, the Lions will hand out about 15 trophies, 40 plaques and lots of honorable mention awards, Fontana reminded.

Competition for high school entries is in three categories—pictorial, handicrafts and photography. The elementary school students will be judged on pictorial work and handicrafts.

"The whole show is geared to a modern motif," Fontana previewed, "and there are some outstanding examples of abstract art."

Teachers throughout the Daly City-Colma area are assisting the Lions with the project. Only the best of thousands of entries will be on display.

A renowned trio of judges will preside at the exhibition. They are Beniamino Bufano, internationally famed artist and sculptor; Mario J. Ciampi, celebrated architect for the local elementary and high school districts, and Lawrence Patterson, College of San Mateo

Master Plan Wins Council Approval

A planning survey to include Daly City's needs through 1980 won unanimous approval of the city council Monday night.

Hahn, Wise and Associates, planning consultants, will draft the two-phase study over the next two years at a cost of $16,960. The city will pay approximately half of this total in cash and services.

The study will include a master plan for land use in an effort to set aside property for commercial and industrial development.

State Court Okays Hilltop Lodge Ban

Closing of the Hilltop lodge at 22 Hillcrest drive last year has been upheld by the state district court of appeals in Sacramento.

The action thus reaffirmed the superior court ruling that proprietors George and Ann Kirchhubel and partner Daniel Pallas were responsible for all "activities" within the tavern.

Alcoholic beverage control agents revoked their license three years ago on charges of operating a disorderly house and permitting sales of narcotics to customers.

Re-elect Brisbane Water Directors

Three Brisbane County Water district incumbents rolled up comparatively easy victories Tuesday, out-distancing the closest competitor by nearly 100 votes.

Frank M. Walch led the field with 323, while Preston G. Barnes polled 292, Arthur E. Kennedy 293, to retain their offices.

Getting closest to the winners was new Brisbane Homeowners association president David H. With, who tallied 201

City Yanks Permit Of Auto Dealer

Used car dealer Thomas Drake will not be able to ply his trade in Daly City — at least not in the immediate future.

Councilmen voted unanimously Monday not to renew the used car permit of the 27-year-old dealer after several hearings showing evidence that he had used illegal advertising in the sale of his vehicles.

Tom Brown, nationally-famous amateur tennis player, appeared as Drake's attorney, marking the first time the dealer had been represented by counsel, and pleaded for leniency.

Declaring that Drake had "bent over backwards" to avoid any further violations of the law, Brown said his client would be unable to follow his occupation elsewhere if the council denied the permit.

Take "Five"

Councilmen took a five-minute recess to discuss the case, after which Mayor Joseph Verducci announced that the council was unanimous in agreeing to deny renewal of the permit. During the recess, however, Councilman Sanford Vickers had asked if there wasn't some way to punish the dealer without jeopardizing his livelihood.

Under the council ruling, no permit will be issued to Drake or any corporation in which he

Three Vie For School Position

Names of three persons were forwarded to county school superintendent James Tormey Wednesday as possible replacements for trustee Henry Kraus on the Jefferson Elementary School district board.

A seven-man citizens selections committee submitted the three names in order of preference.

Tormey's appointment will probably be made this week and submitted to the county board of education for ratification next Wednesday.

Kraus' resignation is scheduled to take effect Monday. He announced his "retirement" two months ago, stating he was leaving the post for "personal reasons." His term still has a

Brown, Galusha Battle For Police Board Post

A record voter turnout of 500 or more is anticipated for Monday's Broadmoor police district election, which finds incumbent Harry Brown opposing former police sergeant Gail Galusha for a three-year term.

HARRY BROWN
... Seeks re-election

GAIL GALUSHA
... Commission Aspirant

Activity at the polls is expected to exceed previous years because of interest in the campaign and because, for the first time in the district's history, sample ballots were mailed to the 2700 registered voters.

Galusha, 536 MacArthur, a millworker, was a member of the Broadmoor police force up until five months ago, when he quit because of a dispute with the commission over seniority.

Brown, an insurance adjustor, lives at 755 Stewart avenue. He has been a commissioner for three years and prior to that a member of the Broadmoor police reserve.

Brown is figured as a favorite to top the former police-man, being an incumbent and having the backing of Broadmoor police. He is by no means considered a "cinch," however, since Galusha is well acquainted in the area.

Voting will be at two locations, Broadmoor police station, 388 88th street, and Colma firehouse, 50 Rainier street.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The winning candidate will take office April 9.

Front Street Hit Hardest In Brisbane

Front street fared the worst in Friday's earth temblor, a survey of Brisbane showed.

Furnishings of Brisbane homes took a beating but structural damage was not extensive.

W'lake Damage Not 'Too' Bad, Doelger Claims

"Surveys of Westlake, and the Westlake Palisades area in particular, Monday disclosed damage to homes and streets was not as extensive as believed," according to Henry Doelger Builder, Inc.

"In actuality, damages to new homes, and homes under construction in the Palisades, was limited in most cases to broken windows and stucco cracks. Reports of homes moved from foundations, homes collapsing and walls falling down were baseless," the survey by members of the corporation revealed.

Work Monday morning was proceeding on an "as usual" basis, with some of the workmen making minor repairs to stucco cracks and broken sidewalks in some of the homes that are to be occupied in the very near future.

Gene Harrington, sales manager, said many of the homes have no visible damage at all. "A careful check of the entire district has revealed the majority of the homes suffered no damage at all," he declared.

Of the total of 4500 homes and 1200 apartments in Westlake, only 300 had damage of any kind. Out of this total, 20 to 25 were damaged in excess of $200, while the average was about $100 per home, the spokesman said.

"Rumors that prevailed Friday afternoon and Saturday as to the extreme damages suffered in Westlake proved baseless when the tumult subsided Monday," the Doelger spokesman said.

Finance Chief Tells Quake Victims To Check Contractors

Earthquake victims: beware of "fly-by-night" contractors.

This was the warning issued this week by director of finance Jerome Scharfman.

In times of widespread property damage, Scharfman said many contractors exploit homeowners.

He urged residents to check with his department to determine if any relatively unknown contracting firms are licensed to do business here.

QUAKE PROPERTY LOSS

Some Funds Pledged To Victims

Kids 'Duck & Cover' As Schools Survive Big Jolt

ESTIMATE $5000 COST TO MEND SPLIT RESERVOIR

Daly City's earthquake-cracked reservoir will cost about $5000 to repair and will not be able to handle its full 1,600,000 gallon capacity for at least three weeks, according to public works director Otis Calhoun.

The damaged tank, Westlake Reservoir No. 2, is still holding 600,000 gallons and normal water service is being provided residents in that area.

When repair work starts Monday, the reservoir will have to be completely drained and a temporary 35,000 gallon tank installed to provide adequate water service.

City engineers are currently designing a temporary transmission system which will allow maintenance of regular water service while the reservoir is being repaired.

Calhoun said there did not appear to be any serious damage to the tank below ground level, but further investigation will be made after the reservoir is pumped dry.

The works director said a temporary tank would cost approximately $1200. Booster will be used to augment the temporary supply.

Calhoun expressed optimism that throughout the repair work water service would remain normal.

Quake Aftermath: Unique Incidents

Friday's earthquake resulted in some freak accidents in Daly City.

At THE RECORD office, 3317 San Jose avenue, a chimney toppled, spewing bricks over a doorway and onto a parked car owned by linotype operator John Harrold.

Body of the vehicle took quite a battering, but printers were saved possible injury by remaining inside the building. It was prorably the only instance in Daly City where a vehicle was damaged.

One local resident had a pan full of fish spill on the floor, while a nearby bottle of cooking oil shattered, pouring its contents on the fish. "They were all ready to fry," the housewife commented.

Daly City's elementary and high school students were extremely "lucky" Friday when they experienced the earthquaking shock of their young lives.

There were no reported injuries, confusion was at a minimum, and all hands survived—weary but wiser.

As expected, Jefferson Elementary School district was affected most. Superintendent H. Z. Weibel said the only damage was 16 broken windows in four classrooms at Westlake school, plus jarred-loose plaster and cracked walls in the 10 other schools.

Lauds Faculty

"We were fortunate," Weibel remarked, "as nobody was hurt. Our principals and teachers did a wonderful job."

"I was extremely worried about the older schools, such as Colma," he continued, "but the damage proved to be minute."

First tremor Friday sent elementary students into their "duck and cover" exercise in classrooms, standard emergency procedure. School officials immediately channeled the children outside the school and clear of the buildings when the 11:45 shocker struck. Parents streamed to the schools to get their children, while other youngsters stayed under constant supervision until their folks arrived.

Jeff Aftermath

Superintendent Edward D. Morgan of the high school district reported similar "good" tidings. The jolt rocked the ancient Jefferson plant, tearing loose lighting fixtures, shedding plaster and cracking a few walls. But, miraculously, the school withstood the crisis.

Two upstairs commercial rooms were hit hardest as overhead lighting fixtures tumbled onto desks and typewriters, populated and operated by Westmoor students.

No students were injured by the flying glass, however, and the evacuation of the building was swift and well supervised by principals Glenn South and John Mongan. In the auditorium, cast of a Jefferson student play rushed out as light chunks of plaster from the ceiling came tumbling down.

Campus Exodus

Westmoor students were assembled outside the main building to await buses and transportation home. Arriving Jefferson students, coming on the same buses, remained outside the plant until Westmoor students were motored home.

Morgan ordered the two commercial classrooms closed Monday, but students returned to them Tuesday. The superintendent and district engineers over the weekend examined the entire plant for possible additional damages. Janitors, meanwhile, scurried to clean up the debris.

The new Westmoor High, off Skyline and Westmoor and dangerously close to the severely damaged Palisades area, took the shock in stride. Morgan said the plant sustained no noticeable damage, an extraordinary finding considering the being-built status of the school. Westmoor is expected to be completed this June.

Parochial Report

Daly City's parochial schools also came off "easy." Authorities at Our Lady of Mercy in Westlake and Our Lady of Perpetual Help on Wellington avenue had no damages or injuries to report. The children remained clear of the buildings, under watchful eyes, until parents arrived to escort them home.

TYPICAL post-quake kitchen scene in Palisades area was this scramble at home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed A. Burford, 186 Morningside drive. Even vandals couldn't have done a more thorough job. THE RECORD photo

City, state and national officialdom and charitable institutions have set the wheels in motion to extend aid to quake victims whose cases classify as "hardship."

Some property owners, many of them in the Westlake Palisades, suffered structural damage to their homes up to $400.

Local chapter of the Red Cross said today that families in need of financial assistance may be eligible for outright gifts from the organization. Applications for aid should be made to the local chapter by calling DI 3-4561.

Applications will be checked to verify ownership, earnings, resources and liabilities to establish priority on eligibility.

Not All Covered

The Red Cross does not replace all losses or damage, but does meet needs that the family is unable to meet without undue hardship in resuming its normal way of life. Such help is an outright grant, and repayment is never requested, according to Edward Gully, director for disaster services.

Daly City councilmen said Monday they would encourage lending agencies and other groups to aid householders who suffered greatest losses.

Assemblyman Louis Francis has reported that all necessary aid will be given by state agencies to the Daly City-Sharp Park area.

Since there was no widespread emergency, Francis said relief funds were not available under the disaster act. He told Mayor Joseph Verducci, however, that state loans could be obtained for repairing city buildings, streets, sidewalks and that damaged schools would receive state aid.

Bank Consideration

Francis also said he was arranging with bank officials to give special consideration to families suffering greatest property damage, since most of them had no earthquake insurance because of its prohibitive cost.

Francis introduced and won passage in the Assembly Friday on a resolution urging the state to "do everything in its power to cooperate in the immediate rendering of necessary assistance."

Clair Sutherland, Bank of America executive, told THE RECORD two forms of loans would be made available—a three-year improvement loan up to $3500, and a similar amount up to five years under FHA grants. "We'll deal with each individual case but bank managers have been directed to be lenient in the granting of loans and the enforcement of payment dates."

Crocker-Anglo bank announced today that earthquake damage repair loans for "almost every type of repair" will be made available. The loans do not require endorsers or collateral and borrowers need not be Crocker-Anglo depositors.

The North End Democratic club wired Congressmen Arthur Younger and Jack Shelley asking that Daly City be declared a disaster area to enable several hundred property owners to obtain federal interest-free loans up to $1000 with 20 years to pay.

THE RECORD learned that property damage to homes is tax deductible up to the full amount of the loss, but the amount must be certified by an appraiser. Owners cannot, of course, claim the losses for tax purposes until next year.

Congressman Arthur Younger, in a telegram reply to the North End Democratic club, said this week that Daly City would not be eligible for federal funds as a "disaster" area, but promised "any legal assistance we can provide."

Younger said the city council had notified him that quake damage was not heavy enough to term the city a "disaster" area under federal emergency aid programs.

What About Coast Highway, Merchant Asks Councilmen

What is Daly City going to do with the Coast Highway if the state abandons it?

Tavern owner George Kirchhubel confronted the council with this question Monday night, in light of damage to the road in last Friday's earthquake.

But the council concensus was, there's no necessity to do anything.

Daly City, in an annexation last year, annexed southward down the coast and included the highway in its boundaries.

As City Attorney Frank Blum explained, "The state may abandon the northern section when they put through the Edgemar cut-off. The city won't do anything. There's no necessity."

Councilman Del Wilson suggested the road might be given back to the property owners.

Kirchhubel still wanted to know why the city annexed the road in the first place.

SSF Firm Awards DC Man For 40 Years Of Service

Antonio Francesconi, 1139 Brunswick street, has been presented with an eight-star award by Swift & Company, denoting 40 years of continuous service with the South San Francisco meat packing firm.

The presentation was made by plant superintendent F. S. Sigler.

Francesconi began his career with Swift & Company in 1917 in the produce department. Two years later he transferred to trucking and since then has driven approximately a half million miles, all without a serious accident.

During World War I, Francesconi served in the 144th Field Artillery as a truck driver. He was an air raid warden in World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Francesconi have lived here since their marriage in 1921. They have three children and six grandchildren. Their son, Robert, also is a Swift & Company employee, with 14 years of service.

Johnson, Hix Homers Pep B'moor Victory

Homers by Ron Johnson and Bruce Hix paved the way Saturday as the Broadmoor A softball team spanked St. Anne's, 13-0, in West O' Twin Peaks league play.

John Vocke and Jim Fisher gained extra base distinction with doubles. Catcher Larry Skinner was "outstanding" for the winners.

The defending champs play the 83 A's this Saturday at Aptos.

Suit Charges Firm 'Scared' Man Into Buying Furnace

A furnace company and three of its salesmen have been sued for $62,000 damages by a Daly City resident who charges that he was persuaded by false statements to buy a new furnace he didn't need and couldn't afford.

Stanley G. Wiener, 214 Wilshire drive, names Holland Furnace Co. and three company employees as defendants.

Wiener said his wife granted the firm permission to inspect the furnace on January 11.

They cleaned the furnace and on January 16 a member of the firm, on inspecting the job, said there was a hole in the furnace, causing the escape of gas, Wiener charged.

The gas was turned off and it continued to get colder, causing the family to be "fearful for their safety," the suit continued. Eventually, Wiener said, he signed an order for a new $1200 furnace.

As a result of the cold during the time the heat was off, the Wieners and their two young children suffered d virus infections, "great mental and nervous distress," the suit alleged.

Wiener asks $3000 damages for each of the four members of the family, plus $50,000 punitive damages.

"How old am I?"

asks Mrs. Edna Short, 924 Jackson, Albany, California

Ever noticed? The grand thing about grandmothers these days is not their age—but how youthful they look!

One good reason is modern household appliances. They've taken over the tough, back-breaking chores that used to rob women of their youth and beauty long before their time.

Mrs. Short, pictured with grandson Kim, is a wonderful example. This 45-year-old grandmother leaves most of her hard work to labor-saving appliances. How about you?

Here's the beauty of it: With P. G. and E.'s low rates for gas and electricity you can run a houseful of appliances all day—for about half the price of a bottle of liquid make-up.

lespite the demolition of their indoor brick fireplace.

Just a few seconds before the quake three-month old Daniel Martinelli had been removed from the living room to the bedroom. When the quake struck the fire place toppled inward, dumping a ton of rubble on the spot where the baby had lain in his carriage.

Evacuation started at 1:40 p.m. after the city had put its disaster plan into operation. At 2:25 water department workers had lowered the water level of the reservoir to a safe level.

At 3:15 the evacuation was called off and the city's reservoir was practically empty, the water having been drained off harmlessly into the storm sewers.

Water Mains Break

Two water mains were broken in "isolated" sections of Westlake but were repaired on short notice.

School children were sent home and stores at the Westlake Shopping Center, which suffered heavy losses, closed up for the day. Doctors and dentists reported business was "slow," as many patients cancelled their appointments, fearful to leave their homes and families.

While Westlake was hit the hardest, eastern Daly City had its debris and confusion. Many water service lines at homes were broken, some gas mains cracked and structural damage was suffered. Greatest damage, in both Westlake and other areas, was believed to have been in personal property such as vases, glasses, platters and other interior furnishings. Kitchens and living rooms were a shambles, medicine cabinets spilled out their contents and book cases poured volumes on the floor. Many Westlake families locked their doors and left for the weekend, while others spent Saturday and Sunday restoring things to partial "normalcy."

Broadmoor got off comparatively "easy," as Chief of Police Ray Savage reported only isolated cases of broken glassware.

Crime dwindled to an uncommon low, with only one attempted break-in in Broadmoor and a single robbery in Daly City.

Coast Highway Out

The Coastside also fared well, but Coast Highway 1, connecting Daly City and Edgemar, caved in in several spots and is not expected to be opened for at least several days.

The state sent heavy equipment in immediately to begin the gargantuan task of clearing the roadway and restoring the road bed.

Damage Widespread

While few private residences suffered excessive dollar loss, the widespread nature of the damage was shown in a report from the Associated Plumbing and Heating Contractors.

Dennis Carey, executive secretary, said 2395 emergency calls were handled by some 622 plumbers over the weekend, at a total cost of $43,485. Approximately $30,000 of this was for repairs in the Westlake area, amounting to about an average of $18 each.

Plumbers worked practically around the clock, and calls continued to come in faster than they could be handled. Some 269 calls still remain to be answered.

Daly City's report on damage showed $62,500 for Palisades homes, $400,000 for Daly City's remaining 8000 homes at an average of $50, $15,000 for Westlake shopping center and apartments, $3000 for nine food stores, $30,000 for Coast highway repairs, $8900 for public property and $7500 in salaries paid to city employees.

QUAKE WORKERS, CITIZENS WIN PRAISE

Praise was handed out all the way around today for the cooperative efforts of city and county workers, private business and individual citizens in maintaining calm after Friday's earthquake.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi commended residents for their "cooperation and for understanding the situation." He also lauded all departments, California Highway Patrol, sheriff's office, Broadmoor police, special and reserve police and county fire wardens. He extended commendation to the taxi cab companies, jitneys and businesses that lent vehicle to evacuate citizens from Westlake Palisades.

PG&E expressed thanks for the "wonderful cooperation we received from Daly City residents, City Manager Howard Stites and the police departments."

The utility handled almost 2000 service calls from Daly City in a one-day period, working on a 24-hour basis.

No major breaks were reported in gas mains and only 25 service pipes were damaged, according to Joseph Rohl, local manager.

Not a single fire was reported, due to alert work by firemen and PG&E workers.

Stites had high praise for all city department heads for the "wisdom of their decisions" and also for all city employees.

Quake Has Effect On Church Turnout

Friday's earthquake had a pronounced effect on the community's churches Sunday, as pews overflowed with worshippers, many of whom had been conspicuous by their absence in past months.

Enormity of Friday's jaring shake prompted thousands to attend services Sunday and give thanks and offer prayers.

Enthusiasm 'High' For Paper Drive

Ernie Reys, general chairman of the OLPH paper drive reports that with but two days to go, enthusiasm is still running high among the Daly City children.

"The children are really going after the $5 award for the most newspapers, but somebody will have to be satisfied with the $3 second award and still others will have to be content with one of the many other prizes," he stated.

Children wishing to enter the contest are asked to tie their newspapers in ordinary bundles, mark them for identification and bring the newspapers to the OLPH school, 80 Wellington avenue, this Saturday.

Those who cannot bring newspapers to OLPH school may telephone PL 5-4896 for pick-up service after 5 p.m. on Friday and any time Saturday.

Cub Pack and Scout Troop 243 will assist with the pick-up service and handling of bundles, as these organizations will receive portions of the proceeds derived for their activities. All local children are invited to participate.

There's gold in them thar hills this week, and five square miles of it belongs to Marion and Bill Lamson. They bought a share in a gold mine last summer at Mina, Nevada, and the assays came out so well that they have put their Midway house up for sale and, come spring, intend to be busy getting things in shape. Mina is about 315 miles from here, between Hawthorne and Tonopah, and the only reason they learned about the mine was that they wound up in the motel there one night on the way home from their trip. Circumstance, chance, whatever you want to call it, it turned out well for the Lamsons, and we're glad.

Mrs. John Bellinger, whom we introduced to you some months ago, is already busying herself in community service in spite of the arthritis which keeps her down in a wheelchair at times. She is Broadmoor chairman for the cancer drive, and is starting early to organize her territory and gather her workers. Not only that, but she will be the American Cancer Society's representative here all year 'round, and she will be the one to contact if anyone needs help or information. The drive starts May 1, and anyone who would like to help out may call Mrs. B. at PL 5-9122. She lives at 908 Heather.

Up on Pinehaven, Marietta Lacey hostessed a canasta party for VFW Auxiliary 9921, and from all reports it was a highly successful evening. Stella Magoon, Agnes Sirianni, La Nilta Dunn, Dorothy Heim, Nellie Krawetz, Dorothy Goodwin and Rose Bloom were guests. Marietta is another of our town's senior citizens who takes an active interest in organizations, belonging to several others as well as the VFW. She and her husband once owned newspapers in Oklahoma, and she has been interested in politics for many years.

Men of Distinction

Wildwood seems to have a trend towards making husbands feel like men of distinction the way their wives have been giving them birthday parties around there. Last week it was Mervin Utman who rated. This week it's George Smith and Ken George. George was really surprised by his party — he thought it was for his daughter, who shares his birthday. Guests who joined wife Macia for the fun were Allen and Virginia Harvey, Jack and Margaret Murzi, Loyal and Doris Smith and family, Bill and Lee Sereni, and Beverly and John Smith.

Ken had a family party for his day. He and wife Marian were joined by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland George, and all of them had a wonderful family party.

Since we mentioned George Smith's daughter, it is only fair to mention that she was all of three years old and had a party, too. Her guests were Marilyn Harvey, Valerie De Pauli, Dana Utman, Ricky Guisti, Philip George, and "Ski" Ratto. Grandma and Grandpa, Cooper were there too, which made things all the better.

Odds and Ends

Did you see that new Volvo in front of Rice's 89th street house? Yep, it's theirs. Bill sells 'em now. They're imported from Sweden, we hear . . . And then there were Ray Savage and Merrill Baxley being their usual efficient selves in a picture in a SF paper the other day. . . . Martha Pinney came up from Los Gatos for a day's visit with her used-to-be neighbors on Louvaine . . . Carroll Lindsay, one of the Benjamin Franklin teachers, being nominated as a favorite teacher in a well-known competition currently being conducted — couldn't happen to a nicer person. . . . As far as we're concerned, war weapons have a far better value as things for children to climb over and marvel at than their original reason for existence. The thousands of children swarming on those at Westlake proved it.

We wonder, possibly in company with many another, how come there isn't a book drop in the door of the branch library through which to return books when shopping in the A.M.? And we wonder, too, why those who design the big parking lots where cars nuzzle noses along strips of concrete, don't design those strips of concrete wide enough to walk on? People walking behind the cars create a traffic problem and a safety hazard.

Spring Arrival

Another new arrival in the Village is Cary Jay Belluomini, 8 lbs. 10 oz., who is living happily on Maddux with parents Donna and Hank, big sister Rochelle, and brothers Edward and Craig. Coincidentally, Rochelle went to the hospital for an operation just the day before Donna went to have the baby, so they got to visit each other while there. Quite a family affair!

With another arrival in the offing, Elizabeth Arnst was guest of honor at a baby shower given by next-door neighbor Claire Vocke on MacArthur. Fran O'Dea, Rush Nelson, Frances Unthank, and Claire's mother, Mrs. Ruth Clark, were there, plus us. It was a complete surprise and, as it turned out, all the baby things were in yellow — blanket, shawl, clothes, etc. A good thing it's Elizabeth's favorite color!

Dick Beauchamp, newly turned 10 up on 87th street, had a surprise birthday party the other evening. We think special applause goes to his parents for being able to keep it a surprise — ten-year-olds seem to know everything that's going on, somehow! Guests Jeffrey Teague, Steven Unthank, Duke Duccini, Paul Nelson, Dick England arrived on time, and when Dick got back from the ice cream store, there they were. Bruce Mayo and Billy Eagleton, who couldn't make it, missed a good time, which included Dick's father playing the organ for them. Dick's brother, Jackie, had his turn to shine when he had a tonsilectomy recently.

Well, it pays to be a patient, good-natured husband, as Tony Cain, Tom Bocci and Vin Murphy found out. In return for their patience in putting up with their wives' weeks of fashion luncheon preparations, said wives took them all out to dinner. Wives are, respectively, Jean, Mel and Vi, who live on Stoneyford, Village lane and Midway.

Safety Note

Some serious problems will doubtless take place if children are not kept out of the marshy area between Sweetwood and Edgemar. Police are concerned about the number of children who have been playing there, and rightly so. They are also concerned about the air rifles which seem to be in evidence. There is a county ordinance against those.

Carla Styket had a very happy eighth birthday recently. Spending the afternoon at her home on Glenrose were Phyllis Cohen, Mary Alice Heim and Darlene Spencer, who helped her enjoy the cage and games and the particularly golden kind of time a birthday is.

Seen on Maddux: nice neighbors Bea Meade and Jean Box cutting Dorothy Croley's lawns for her while she and her father, Holmes Mitchell, are in Sonoma. Dorothy has been away ever since the recent sudden death of her husband, Frank, and the neighborhood will be glad when she comes back. They will miss Frank, though, who used to sit in the front window and watch all the children playing and the mothers coming and going, and who, in his quiet way, was very much a part of it all.

Just learned that Pat and Vic Weiss have left Sweetwood and gone to Novato, where they will live in a house they had built especially for themselves.

Before we go, here's a reminder to save this copy of your paper, and all others you may have around, and tie them all in bundles to be picked up on Saturday, the 23rd, by Cub Pack 259, who are having a paper drive that day.

Over on Gilman, worried neighbors Pat and Joe Fillos hadn't seen Walter Cox around for about a week. Knowing he lived alone and that he was in poor health, they became concerned enough to call the Broadmoor police department. A check found the house empty and all evidences of a hasty departure. Chief Ray Savage and Officer George Carleton called the doctor's name which they found on a prescription bottle, and learned that Cox had been taken to Mary's Help hospital in March 11. A check with the hospital found the patient progressing nicely, with hopes of coming home soon. Some very relieved neighbors, and an equally relieved pair of officers went back to the day's work.

Congratulations to Ray Navarra, Susan Knedel, and Bob Knowles who were named semi-finalists in the College Board Examinations taken in January. They are now eligible for possible scholarships to the colleges of their choice.

The Pep club is currently engaged in the process of revising their constitution, a tedious task requiring much time and cooperation. Next activity of the Spanish club will consist of dining at a restaurant in the near future.

A scholarship will be awarded to two students in this area, one each from the Jefferson and Westmoor districts. YOUNG ADULT POLIO SHOTS CANCELLED

A series of Saturday clinics for Salk polio vaccinations for San Mateo county's young adults has been cancelled because of a vaccine shortage, Dr. Harold Chope, county health director, revealed this week.

Dr. Chope said his department has only enough vaccine left to continue the weekly Wednesday clinic at the county health center for two more weeks.

The health director criticized the state health department vaccination program, asking, "How in Heaven's name can a program designed like this one fall flat on its face in three weeks, I don't know."

A state spokesman said shortage resulted from a "large national demand."

EX-SERVICEMEN GET GOOD 'RE-UP' DEAL FROM NAVY

Chief Leo Polhemus of the Navy recruiting station, 6705 Mission street, today announced that most ex-servicemen are now eligible for re-enlistment advantages offered by the Navy.

Previously only former Navy men could take advantage of these career incentives, but the response has been so great that the Navy department has decided to extend these same advantages to most ex-servicemen.

Former servicemen who are joining the Navy for the first time may now choose either the Atlantic or Pacific for their first duty assignment. In addition, these men can also collect the cost of their travel in advance, and take 30 days advance leave if they so desire.

Chief Polhemus stated that complete information about this program can be obtained at his office, or by phoning PL 6-3740.

Cut Rental Fee For Youth Groups Using DC Center

A reduced rental fee for youth groups seeking to use the community center was approved by the recreation commission Tuesday night.

Fee for activities of church organizations, recognized school functions and any "properly sponsored" youth organization was lowered to $45. Regular rental fee is $90.

Director Dee Van Nest said the reduced rate might serve to encourage more teen-age groups to make use of the center for wholesome activities.

The commission also adopted a vandalism policy which places stress on parents' financial responsibility for damaged property and urges a preventative program to be coordinated with the schools, police and other city departments.

Use of the 255 Vista Grande building as headquarters for the park maintenance division was approved. Campfire Girls now using that building will be transferre dto the community center.

Councilman Sanford Vickers received commissioners backing on a proposed "youth council." The recreation department was directed to work with Vickers for formation of the "council."

Redwood City Tax Postponed 1 Year

The sales tax received another major setback in San Mateo county Monday when Redwood City councilmen decided to postpone until next year any action on the controversial tax.

The levy was scheduled to take effect Monday.

By a 4-2 vote, councilmen decided to delay the sales tax until it was put to a city-wide vote, probably at the April, 1958 election.

A petition asking a referendum vote on the issue was not presented, after the council announced its reversal.

Citizens Opposing Sales Tax has announced that a concerted petition campaign will start in Daly City shortly, in an effort to obtain sufficient signatures to place the sales tax issue on the county ballot.

2 NEW HOPEFULS FILE FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE RACES

A few more hats were tossed into the ring for the five North San Mateo county school board races this week.

The one opening on the Jefferson Elementary School district board still has no aspirants officially, but incumbent Katherine Mullen revealed Wednesday that she would file this week.

Deadline is April 17.

The Jefferson High School district has a pair of trusteeships coming up and only one candidate has made his formal bid. He is William A. Larsen, 880 North Mayfair, a plumbing contractor.

Incumbent Raymond Whitney of Pedro Valley indicated this week, however, that he intends to seek re-election. Chairman Lyal Ingersoll is still undecided whether to run again.

In Brisbane, one more hopeful added his name in the quest for a single seat on the elementary board. He is Stephen Rewak, 451 Mariposa street, a linotype operator. Rewak has been active in PTA and Scout work.

Two other candidates, Incumbent Louis J. Duncan and housewife Laura M. Johnson are also seeking the Brisbane post.

Incumbent Garnet Robertson was still the only aspirant to the Bayshore Elementary School district position at press time.

Elections for the three-year terms will be held May 17.

Colma PTA Will Install On Tuesday

Colma PTA announces that Mrs. Frank Hanley will be in charge of the Installation Dinner next Tuesday evening at Uncle Tom's Cabin in San Bruno.

Topic of the program will be "Starting Anew In The Community." Mrs. Lillian Bertucci, past president, will be installation officer.

Colma PTA held an executive board session Tuesday afternoon at Jefferson Elementary school. Mrs. Gino Marchetti, unit president, and Mrs. John Guastavino discussed their visit to the state capitol two weeks ago. They went as members of the 17th District CCPT delegation. The audience also heard a report on the 17th District's annual convention last week in Redwood City.

Letters To The Editor

Firemen, Police, PG&E Win Thanks For Quake Assist

TO: Daly City Fire Dept.
Daly City Police Dept.
PG&E—Daly City branch

Gentlemen:

I don't know where to begin in an effort to say "thanks" to all of you for your help during the recent earthquake.

When I received a call at work from my sister that "things aren't so good in Westlake and you better go on home," I didn't know what to expect. Finding the house full of broken dishes, smashed glasses, overturned and cracked lamps, dented furniture, spilled food, etc., was a most disheartening experience and it was at that time—while I was walking around in a daze not knowing where to start—that I was most grateful for the Daly City Firemen who were so handy in turning off the gas, checking the water heater, and just helping you to feel better by being available and ready to give assistance. On Friday then, my vote to the "Most Valuable Man" would have gone to the Firemen.

On Saturday, our sincere thanks went to the PG&E repairmen who were ready to restore heat and check the gas pipes. I am sure most of the men had been working long and tedious hours and were no doubt just as tired and discourage as most of us; however, never did one of them seem reluctant to come and give assistance or to answer even the most trivial question. Saturday's "Man of the Hour" was beyond a doubt the PG&E staff.

On Sunday, without a doubt the police were the most welcome sight on Westridge Avenue, for by blocking off the street to "sight-seers" they gave all of us a chance to get the house in order and to start the clean-up operation in peace.

So, if you were to ask who deserves the most thanks, I would have a problem trying to decide. Each of you did an admirable and never to be forgotten job in helping all of us get back on our feet. Perhaps the best I can do is simply say "thanks" to all of you for everything.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. John D. Kachur
281 Westridge Avenue

his life, predicted recovery and believed the surgery successful.

Selmi, former Jefferson High student, had two previous heart operations, one two years ago in San Francisco, the second last June in Minneapolis.

Eugene's trouble was an opening in the heart, which normally closes in most people after birth. Surgeons last Wednesday mended the abnormality. The post-operative shock, however, was too much for young Selmi. His parents were at bedside when death came.

Funeral services were held this morning at W. C. Lasswell's. Entombment was in Olivet Memorial park.

Survivors include two brothers, Richard, 30, and Bruce, 21; grandmothers, Mrs. Zaira Selmi of Daly City and Mrs. Dolly Bywater of Nevada, and grandfather, Emil A. Pfuhl of San Francisco.

'53 Bomb 'Victim' Reports Wife Gone

Phillip Rancatore, who made headlines in 1953 when a disgruntled acquaintance planted a bomb in his auto, had to call police again this week on a purely domestic matter.

Rancatore, 58 West Cavour, told police his 37-year-old wife Mildred, drove away Monday morning and hasn't been seen since. He said she took with her the family car, all her belongings and about $200 cash.

Police have sent out a bulletin asking authorities to be on the lookout for her, but said there isn't much they can do if she is located, since it is a "family affair."

Rancatore was the intended victim of a dynamite bomb hidden in his auto in 1953 by Stanley Keith Engelman, a long-time friend of the Rancatores.

The bomb was discovered by Rancatore before he turned on his auto lights, which would have detonated the explosives.

Engelman served a three-year prison sentence and was released last year. Police said they did not believe there was any connection between Engelman and Mrs. Rancatore's disappearance.

Bond Steering Group Meets Monday Night

Citizens' Steering Committee for the May 17 bond election will be formed Monday night at a meeting of Jefferson Union High School district trustees.

Seventeen citizens, representing a cross-section of the district, are expected to attend. They will formulate with trustees plans for an all-out campaign.

The meeting begins at 7:45 o'clock in the superintendent's office, room 214, 375 South Mayfair avenue.

the district's average teacher salary is $4800, while the state average is $5140.

Trustee Hartley Appleton demanded prompt action on the teachers' request.

"The time to decide is right now. It's improper to let this matter drag on. We should bring our salaries up to those of other districts. We've certainly got to stay within operating limits, but we must be fair to the teachers. After all, if we're to attract and keep good teachers in this district, we've got to adjust salaries."

Trustees, anxious to speed the decision, instructed Shapiro to have final recommendations for board action on April 10.

In other action, the board:

1. Selected engineer Julius Castelan to survey St. Francis Heights subdivision area and prepare recommendations on suitable school sites.

2. Forwarded resolution of necessity on Westlake Basin site to state pending report of soil engineer and geologist on property.

3. Approved $6226.30 expenditure for summer recreation program in Broadmoor, Garden Village, Sterling Heights and Colma areas.

4. Authorized purchase of 58 band uniforms at cost of $1300 for district's band.

5. Granted five-year gardening contract to M. Masini at rate of $1400 a month. Covers all schools.

6. Okayed sending Mrs. Louine Bostwick, curriculum consultant, to American Conference of Educators in Los Angeles, and Dennis Huajardo, physical education director, to P. E. conference in Long Beach.

De Bernardi Hits Water Service Planning Delay

Councilman Michael DeBernardi said Monday night that Daly City should have started planning additions to its water service four months ago.

Citing the emergency created when a Westlake reservoir was "disabled" by Friday's quake, DeBernardi asked what provisions had been made to take care of the water needs of the present and future Westlake developments.

He later pointed out that should the cracked Westlake reservoir burst underground, Daly City's water supply would be seriously impaired.

City Manager Howard Stites said that dual pumping installations could be installed to provide for any failure in the water system.

He explained, however, that all engineering data on water facilities was not yet available. He said he would report on the city's water system at the next council meeting.

Scots Spoil 'Quaky' Jeff's Debut, 7-4

Invaders Bop Leveroni; Burlingame Next Foe

Carlmont's unheralded Scots erupted for seven runs in the first two innings Tuesday and held on to register a 7-4 upset over Jefferson's baseballers in the North PAL opener at Marchbanks.

Steve Mezzera's Indians, who still believe they have title potential, plan to rebound this Friday afternoon at Burlingame.

Rude Jolt

Tuesday's "earthquake" was more of a shocker for the locals than last week's excitement. And the setback means that it's uphill all the way if Jeff is to finish where they should in the flag chase.

The second frame proved Ed Leveroni's downfall against the invaders. Carlmont exploded in that one via five hits (including triple and double), two walks and one man hit-by-pitcher. This erased Jeff's 3-1 first inning edge and meant the ball game.

Leveroni went the distance, allowing only three hits besides the fateful five in the second stanza. His mates managed only six safeties, with Ino Patron and Barry Haanen slapping two each.

Catcher Muffs

The Scots grabbed their first run when Catcher Bill Strassburger overthrew to second, allowing the runner there to scamper all the way for the tally.

The Indians' three-run reply in the bottom of the first made it look like they were off to the races. Patron's single kicked it off Leroy Franzoia got on via a fielder's choice as Patron beat the throw to second, then Haanen singled to drive in Patron. Cleanupper Mike Wedlake followed through with a hit, bringing across Franzoia and Haanen.

Haanen's double in the fourth brought Leveroni home for the final Tribe run. Ed had got on via a walk, and advanced on Patron's single. Franzoia popped up, setting up Haanen for the key blow. Wedlake grounded out to end the rally.

Cole Unloads

Hal Cole's bases-clearing double in the second was the best maneuver of the afternoon. The Scot leftfielder wound up with two hits.

In other league lid-lifters, odds-on South City, defending champs, turned back strong Capuchino, 5-2, and Hillsdale surprised Burlingame, 10-1. San Mateo had a bye.

Mezzera will use either Leveroni or first sacker Paul Tapia on the hill against the Panthers.

Face Collegians

Jeff travels to Berkeley Tuesday afternoon to battle the Cal Frosh in a practice go. Loop action resumes for the locals the following Friday at South City.

The Tribe dropped a 4-2 exhibition to Sacred Heart last Thursday in San Francisco. Leveroni was the loser.

The setback gave Mezzera's club a 1-3 practice record. Their lone win was over Serra two weeks ago.

DC Drug Squad Raps CYO, 6-3

Two doubles by Mike O'Leary, one by Terry Christman and a three-bagger off the bat of Georgie Claus helped Daly City Drugs defeat Holy Name CYO nine, 6-3, Saturday at West-Sunset.

The Drug club, coached by Harry Krohn and managed by Lowell Creighton, is the same team sponsored by Duffy's Corner last fall. Tom Bournellis, who played ball with Krohn, is keeping the Daly City banner flying in junior baseball.

Terry Christman fanned two and held Holy Name to six hits and two runs in five innings. He also picked up a single and double, and scored twice. Billy Ludwigsen, the team's leading pitcher last season, finished the game, striking out one and allowing four hits and a run.

This Saturday morning, the locals face St. Cecelia's at West Sunset, starting at 11:30. They return to Marchbanks Sunday at 11 o'clock to battle Milano Inn.

Knights In Sweep Over Jeff Mermen

Hillsdale's potent swimmers captured all three divisions from Jefferson last Thursday in a North PAL meet down south.

Joe McGrath's varsity mermen lost, 44-32, the 30's fell, 46-12, and the 20's sank, 44-6.

Phil DeLucchi again was Jeff's best performer. He copped the varsity 100-yard breast stroke and the individual medley.

The Indians were scheduled to duel Burlingame's water legions this Thursday.

SPIKEMEN RESUME CAMPAIGN FRIDAY

Jolted out of last week's scheduled meets by the quake, the Westmoor and Jefferson track aggregations swing back into North PAL duel meet action this Friday afternoon.

Ernie Ribera's Rams travel to Capuchino. Bob Watt's Indians engage San Mateo in Bearcatville. Next Tuesday they invade Capuchino.

Meyer To Quit W'moor

Frank "Dutch" Meyer, Westmoor High school football coach and physical education instructor, will resign his job here in June to enter collegiate coaching ranks.

The 32-year-old Nebraska U. grid veteran today told THE RECORD he hasn't made any definite "committments" and is still investigating "possibilities."

"I'll try to stay in California," he remarked, "probably with a junior college or a four-year institution."

Most likely, Meyer will sign with a big school as an assistant coach or with a smaller college as head man.

Dutch, an All-State quarterback for Lincoln High in Nebraska, was a versatile performer at Nebraska university. He played guard, fullback and quarterback for the Cornhuskers.

Meyer coached one year of high school football at Nederland, Colorado, then spent two years as assistant freshman coach at the Colorado university.

He also served as baseball trainer in the Class A Western League, two years with Lincoln and another with Colorado Springs.

Dutch came to Westmoor from South San Francisco, where he was assistant varsity football coach and bossed the Warrior track and wrestling squads.

He lives at 431 C street in Colma.

Two 'Overcrowded' Daly City Diamonds Must Be Reserved!

Because of the heavy demand on softball and baseball facilities this time of the year, Daly City Department of Parks and Recreation announced today that all organizations wishing to use the Marchbanks and Westlake diamonds must obtain facility use permits.

The department has set aside the diamonds, when they are not being used in regular league play, for the public on a reservation basis. Teams and organizations from Daly City will be given first priority in the assignment of facilities.

Persons wishing to make reservations should phone the parks and recreation office, PL 5-0850, Extension 18, or call in person at 144 Hillside boulevard.

Broadmoor 'B' Club Wins 3rd Test, 14-2

Broadmoor's heavy-hitting B softballers claimed their third straight victim Saturday as they belted Cub Pack 351 at Aptos, 14-2.

Wayne Howell fashioned a four-hitter, fanned nine, and helped himself to three hits. Second sacker Ji mManning sliced two base hits. Two big double plays killed Pack rallies.

The B'moor lineup includes Andy Aiello, catcher; Dave Dempsey, 1b; Mike Land, ss; Jack Crofton, 3b; Mickey Garner, lf; Dick Crofton, cf, and Jim Orlich, rf.

Everett "Casey" Heick is manager.

Stroller Buckets 27, All-Stars Pulverize Crusaders For Title

Sonny Stroller thundered 27 points through the hoop as the All-Stars swamped the Crusaders, 37-19, to win the Broadmoor Youth Association basketball title at Jeff High gym.

Both teams had traded close decisions during the regular season, but Stroller and mates made it a runaway in the "rubber" match. The winners led at the half, 21-13.

Bruce Howard was high for the Crusaders with 8.

Tribe Linksmen Fall To Blingum

Jefferson's North PAL title hopes were jolted Tuesday as the Indian golfers were laced by Burlingame, 15½-5½, at Lake Merced.

Mike Orlich's duffers debuted last Thursday with an impressive 12½-8½win over Carlmont at San Mateo. Wayne Guisti was low man with a 71 over 18 holes.

Al Harris paced the locals against the Panthers. He fired a 73.

Orlich, whose Indians won the crown in '54, lists Capuchino and Hillsdale as the teams to beat. Cap, in particular, since Steve Opperman, Jeff's freshman whiz last season, is number one player for the Mustangs.

Opperman and Stan Weld, another standout who transferred to Lowell, paced Jeff in '56. The Tribe lost the league title by six strokes. In '55, Orlich's linksmen fell shy of the championship by the margin of one stroke.

San Mateo hosts the Indians next Tuesday afternoon.

Marchbanks' Casaba Contest Proves Easy Effort For Stroller

Versatile Sonny Stroller "stole the show" from 21 other youngsters last week in the two-day basketball accuracy contest at Marchbanks park.

Harry Aronson, park director, said Stroller captured the free throw event with 15 points and was first-in five-position deadlines around the charity line. Sonny also holds the park record with 22 straight free throws.

Trailing Stroller in free throws were: Anthony Chase, 13; Wayne Stroller and John Westrom, 11 apiece; Tommy Rivos, Billy Carpenter, Buzz Romero and Carl Johnson, 9; Braen Marcus, Robert Hall, Dale Westrom, Wayne Pickering, Walter Pickering, and Don Romero, 8; Dick Holmberg, Billy Nichols and Carl Carpenter, 6; Bobby Rasmussen, Roger Axt, Jerold Hubman and Floyd Byrum, 5.

Finishing close behind Stroller in the five-position marksmanship were Wayne Pickering, Marcus, and Walter Pickering.

Cornell Holmes Is Razor-Sharp Again, Twirls 13-0 Rout

Humbled by a 14-1 whipping in their opener, Dante's New Pisa horsehiders bounced back Saturday to hang a 13-0 loss on Moar's cafeteria in the Police League.

Cornell Holmes, winning chucker, was close to perfection with a one-hit performance. The cool righthander already has a pair of no-hitters to his credit this year.

Jack Tuertes had a big afternoon at the plate, collecting 3 for 4.

This Saturday, Dante's club meets Dee's of South City at Big Rec. Action opens at 12 noon.

St. Martin's Young Folks Enjoy Winter Sports At 'Ridge'

Winter sports attracted St. Martin's Episcopal church Young People's fellowship to Dodge Ridge last week for a Saturday outing.

Chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Barringer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hunt, and George Strieff, the group left Westlake by car before dawn, returning the same evening. Excellent driving and snow conditions were encountered, with plenty of warm sunshine, even though extremely cold weather had prevented skiing the previous day.

Jane Strieff, Marilyn Hunt, Jimmy Hunt, Allene Downey, Ann Mori, Greg Waugh, Dave Bosbery, Gary Stansfield, and John Reuther all returned enthusiastic about the scenic beauties of the Sierra and the excitement of tobogganing and skiing.

Pack 248 Softball Team Triumphs, 8-6

Cub Pack 248 posted its second softball win Saturday with a 8-6 decision over Pack 241.

Mark Mallinger and Gary Mendoza stroked homers and every player for the winners banged at least one base hit. Mendoza had a two-hitter going until the last inning, when the leadoff man connected for a homer, first of a six-run outburst.

Cub Pack 248 B's unleashed a barrage of 19 hits Saturday to annihilate Pack 15, 16-4.

Four hits in four trips made Jimmy Hunt the batsman of the afternoon. Jaspovice, Bush and Hunt each swatted triples.

Ken Solari was winning pitcher.

JEFF HORSEHIDERS

Jefferson's horsehiders will meet defending champion Sacred Heart in first-round action of the second annual South San Francisco baseball tournament, April 16, 18 and 20.

In other matches, San Mateo faces Capuchino, Serra tackles Los Gatos, and host South City engages Galileo.

The tourney is sponsored by the South City Junior Chamber of Commerce. Action will be on the South City Memorial park and San Bruno city park diamonds.

Shopping Center S'ballers Grab 1st Round Lead

A 3-2 win over Westlake Joe's Sunday put the Shopping Center softballers atop the Westlake League as first-round action ended.

The fast-coming W'lake Richfield nine moved into a second place knot with Val's by outlasting the Redwood Roomers, 8-6. Jack Overdoef twirled the victory. Loser was Buddy Kunst.

Our Lady of Mercy climbed out of the basement with a 16-3 rout over Westlake Lodge.

Brisbane Fire Vote Tuesday—Incumbent Fichera 'Unopposed'

Only mild opposition is expected for incumbent J. Fichera Monday as Brisbane voters go to the polls to elect a single fire commissioner for a four-year term.

Fichera, chairman of the board, was opposed by Frederick Schmidt but the latter withdrew from the race two weeks ago, although his name is still on the ballot.

A write-in campaign is expected, however, for William "Cliff" Gannon.

A total of 1150 voters will be eligible to cast ballots. Polling place at the fire station, 700 San Bruno avenue, will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

RAM DIAMOND MEN NAIL SECOND WIN, TRIP WILMERDING

Westmoor High's varsity baseball nine evened its record at 2-2 Tuesday with an extra-inning 5-4 win over Lick-Wilmerding at Ocean View park.

The victory was righthanded Dava Simmons second over L-W. This time he limited the losers to five hits, while his mates garnered nine.

In previous outings, the Rams lost to Cubberly by one run, and dropped a 5-3 tilt to Lincoln of SF.

Westmoor's winning tally Tuesday came in the top of the eighth. Bob Roller, who opened with a double, scored the clincher on Gary Huston's two-base blast.

Catcher Sid Swanson and Huston shouldered the Rams batting power. Swanson hit an inside-the-park homer in the second frame, then tripled home Gary Pederson in the fifth. Huston also rattled two hits.

Skipper Dutch Meyer's team meets South City's jayvees there Tuesday. Next Thursday the Rams entertain Poly's jayvees at Marchbanks.

15 Bowlers Sweat 'Race To Finish'

The nerves of 15 muscle men are at the breaking point today. With just three weeks (nine games) to go, the title winner in the Daly City-Colma bowling league is a colossal question mark.

On top with 50-31 records are McGahey & Olson and San Pedro Lunch. Only one game out with 49-32 is frisky Brisbane Market. It'll be a tossup to the finish line.

Next Tuesday night the contending trio tussle with second division outfits, potential spoilers at this stage of the campaign. M&O meets Thur Meats, the Pedromen face Paul's Flowers, and Brisbane duels Luce Meats. Upsets wouldn't surprise.

San Pedro knotted the lead for the umpteenth time Tuesday with a sweep over Donnellan Realty. M&O took two games from Carlo's Pizzeria, while Brisbane stayed in there with a split nod over Daly City Cleaners.

Frank Lister's 567 series and teammate Paul Purpora's 559 sparked the Lunchmen's conquest. Scuttlebutt is that the spaghetti legions may have it in the "clutch" drive for the crown.

Ernie Cool of Vince & Fred's blazed for high series honors, posting a 632 on games of 207-200-225. He shared singles laurels with Edisco's J. Rainey, who also rolled a 225. Rainey had a 557 series tally.

Split victors Tuesday were V&F over Westlake Homes, Edisco over Paul's, Plaza Furniture over Luce, Carmona Chemical over Towne House, and Bank of America over Thur Meats.

W'moor Jayvees Rip Scots, 20-5

Westmoor High's jayvees rambled to a 20-5 five-inning victory over Carlmont Tuesday on the Scot diamond.

The waltz was the second consecutive triumph for the locals. Last week, Phil Fain throttled South City, 9-5.

An 11-run fourth frame turned the tide for Rod Loseberger's nine Tuesday.

Bob Goodwin set the Scots down on five hits. He fanned eight and walked three. Four Carlmont errors were costly. The Rams also managed to steal 14 bases.

Westmoor slapped 12 hits, two each by infielders West and Rich Blakemore, and outfielders Garrup and Griggs. Griggs two-run triple was the fiercest blast.

Losberger tried out Bob Deal at catcher, and the lad handled the chore "very well." Star in the South City game was Danny O'Connor. He collected two hits and was tops defensively at short, second and in center.

The Rams meet South City at Marchbanks today (Thursday).
